

Using Selenium and Jest Testing

Decision:

Jest is to be used for unit testing and selenium is to be used to test application pages

Status:

Approved

Context:

Wordle world party was coded using Javascript and as such jest is a very suitable choice for testing as it is a Javascript test runner. It is well documented and easy to use. Selenium is used for browser automation to ensure there are no runtime errors.

Consequence:

The application can be tested to determine errors, this can be used later in automated deployment so that only working versions of the app will be deployed.
